Another Friend of Negro Felled

RFK Asks Peace, Critically Shot

Writer Tells of Tragedy

By JEAN MOORE

The letters of Robert F. Kennedy, senator from New York and Democratic Presidential candidate, were being read across America last week by millions of Americans. The man who had delivered an electrifying victory speech at the Democratic national convention in Los Angeles three days earlier was a hero to many thousands of black Americans. Kennedy was a leader who could reach across the barriers of race to bring together the black and white. As a result, his assassination was a blow to the hopes and dreams of the civil rights movement.

 Assassin's Bullet Ruinous To Black Community Event

By BRAD PETERSON

The letters of Robert F. Kennedy were being read across America last week by millions of Americans. The man who had delivered an electrifying victory speech at the Democratic national convention in Los Angeles three days earlier was a hero to many thousands of black Americans. Kennedy was a leader who could reach across the barriers of race to bring together the black and white. As a result, his assassination was a blow to the hopes and dreams of the civil rights movement.

 Chronology of The Shooting

The following is an approximate chronology of the events involved in the shooting of RFK.

1:35 a.m.: Kennedy is shot.
1:36 a.m.: The shooting is reported to police.
1:37 a.m.: Kennedy is rushed to the hospital.
1:38 a.m.: The hospital begins to evacuate.
1:40 a.m.: The hospital is locked down.
1:45 a.m.: The President is declared dead.
1:47 a.m.: The Vice President is sworn in.
1:50 a.m.: The Secret Service is called in.
2:00 a.m.: The shooting is reported to the White House.
2:05 a.m.: The President is declared dead.
2:10 a.m.: The Vice President is sworn in.
2:15 a.m.: The shooting is reported to the public.
2:20 a.m.: The Secret Service is called in.
2:25 a.m.: The shooting is reported to the police.
2:30 a.m.: The shooting is reported to the hospital.
2:35 a.m.: The shooting is reported to the White House.
3:00 a.m.: The President is declared dead.
3:05 a.m.: The Vice President is sworn in.
3:10 a.m.: The shooting is reported to the public.
3:15 a.m.: The shooting is reported to the police.
3:20 a.m.: The shooting is reported to the hospital.
3:25 a.m.: The shooting is reported to the White House.
4:00 a.m.: The shooting is reported to the public.
4:05 a.m.: The shooting is reported to the police.
4:10 a.m.: The shooting is reported to the hospital.
4:15 a.m.: The shooting is reported to the White House.

On THE INSIDE

It was the moment of truth. RFK lay bleeding on the floor of the Ambassador Hotel, and the Secret Service moved into action. The shooting was over, but the crisis was just beginning. The President was dead, but the nation was still in shock. The world was watching, and the Secret Service was there to protect him.

Anchored

RFK's body was moved to the hospital, where he was pronounced dead at 1:38 a.m. The shooting had taken place in a small room, and the Secret Service had been unable to stop the bullet. But they had tried, and they had succeeded in keeping the President alive until the end.

Chronology of The Shooting

The following is an approximate chronology of the events involved in the shooting of RFK.

1:35 a.m.: Kennedy is shot.
1:36 a.m.: The shooting is reported to police.
1:37 a.m.: Kennedy is rushed to the hospital.
1:38 a.m.: The hospital begins to evacuate.
1:40 a.m.: The hospital is locked down.
1:45 a.m.: The President is declared dead.
1:47 a.m.: The Vice President is sworn in.
1:50 a.m.: The Secret Service is called in.
2:00 a.m.: The shooting is reported to the White House.
2:05 a.m.: The President is declared dead.
2:10 a.m.: The Vice President is sworn in.
2:15 a.m.: The shooting is reported to the public.
2:20 a.m.: The Secret Service is called in.
2:25 a.m.: The shooting is reported to the police.
2:30 a.m.: The shooting is reported to the hospital.
2:35 a.m.: The shooting is reported to the White House.
3:00 a.m.: The shooting is reported to the public.
3:05 a.m.: The shooting is reported to the police.
3:10 a.m.: The shooting is reported to the hospital.
3:15 a.m.: The shooting is reported to the White House.
4:00 a.m.: The shooting is reported to the public.
4:05 a.m.: The shooting is reported to the police.
4:10 a.m.: The shooting is reported to the hospital.
4:15 a.m.: The shooting is reported to the White House.

On THE INSIDE

It was the moment of truth. RFK lay bleeding on the floor of the Ambassador Hotel, and the Secret Service moved into action. The shooting was over, but the crisis was just beginning. The President was dead, but the nation was still in shock. The world was watching, and the Secret Service was there to protect him.

Anchored

RFK's body was moved to the hospital, where he was pronounced dead at 1:38 a.m. The shooting had taken place in a small room, and the Secret Service had been unable to stop the bullet. But they had tried, and they had succeeded in keeping the President alive until the end.