Farewell Party For Mrs. Hawkins

THERE WAS a grand farewell party for Mrs. Anita Hawkins on Saturday when Mrs. Troy Goodrum was hostess at bridge complimenting the popular matron who leaves soon to enter defense work in Mobile, Alabama. "Victory," the theme of the affair was emphasized in the packages of vegetable seeds given each guest. The ladies were allowed to choose numbers afterwards, to their surprise and delight the hostess presented each with a package of seeds with the admonition to "dig for Victory." Quite patriotic was the gesture, especially so since the honoree leaves for war work, and we are asked to supplement our rationed foods with home gardens.

The bridge provided much entertainment and imagine the reaction when the honoree was declared winner of the first prize! Other prize winners in order are Mrs. Charlotte Shorter, Miss Ruby Wise and Mrs. Edna Green, sister of the honoree as winner of the consolation prize. As a token of friendship, Mrs. Goodrum presented the honoree with a lovely piece of milk glass to add to her already huge collection.

Guests in attendance were Mesdames Anita Hawkins, Charlotte Shorter, Eva Cowan, Maude Hatton, Maude Lucky, Mable Mitchell, Ella Hampton, Eva Kelly, Y. E. Rogers, Raymond Carter Green, Lols McMath, Ruth Jackson and Miss Ruby Wise.

Little Mattie, daughter of the hostess was to have assisted her such a socialite herself, her enmother in entertaining, but being gagement pad was rather confused and instead she kept a movie engagement. Assisting her however were Mesdames Raymond Carter Y. E. Rogers.

THE PRINCIPAL'S RECEPTION to the graduating class on Sunday was quite a lovely affair. The Servicemen's Center, scene of the affair was very beautifully decorated with foliage. The receiving line was composed of Mr. Cornell, host and principal, and members of the faculty. Many of the parents of the graduates called during the evening. Assisting in serving were Misses Henri Young, Mattie Harper and Mrs. Alice Bourke Robinson.

Quiet string music rendered by the School ensemble under the direction of Clarence Renter, violin recitation of Miss Lennie Green, com-nist, Bernice Bryon, cellist, Charlie Mae Davis, flute, added charm and dignity to the enjoyable evening.

BASKING IN THE "land of sunshine and flowers" are several prominent Atlantans who are they as guest of other Atlantans who spend a portion of each year in that sunny state. Visiting Mrs. A. F. Herndon are Mesdames F. B. Washington, P. Q. Yancey, H. S. Cannon and E. M. Martin. Visiting Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Bowden, also in Tavares, Florida are Mesdames L. D. Milton and R. E. Clement. We know that their days must be wonderfully spent and just between us, I'm slightly envious of that delightful sunshine, especially so since we are having such BREEZES.

MUSIC LOVERS are extended a cordial invitation to witness the presentation by the Washington High School Symphonic Band of Rossini's "Semiramide" directed by E. A. Sturling. Coming as a twenty five minute prelude to the Commencement Exercises for the Mid-Term class, this rendition will begin at 7:30 P. M. on Friday, January 22 in the Clark College Chapel.

Featured soloists will be Muriel Gusselt and Theodore Sheely on the Bell Lyra, Mary Normand on the Tympani and Charlie Mae Davis on the flute.

THE CTSEANADIANS, new school band, will "give out with the tunes" for the Artistians Dance Club's grand soiree on Monday. A feature of the evening will be the stage show at which time Julius (Slip) Anderson will entertain with comics and dance interpretations.

Members of the Club are Helen Griggs, president, Ella Mae Gaines, Mildred McFarlin, Miriam Walton, Elizabeth Dec, Eliane Pace, Mable Gartrell, Dorothy Hall, Dorothy Nash and Edna Griggs. Willis Scrugg, popular arranger of dance routines serves as advisor for the group of lovely young ladies.

IT SEEMS though Friday night, the time of the Regular Fellows' dance at the Top Hat just won't get here. With the problem of transportation so nicely solved by the "fellows", there really isn't anything to stand in the way of a glorious evening spent with friends at this affair. The "fellows" have done everything possible to make this a long remembered affair, perhaps it will be the last for the duration. Put all cares aside so that you may dance and frolic with the Regular Fellows.

COMING EVENTS include the Y. W. C. A. Membership dinner on January 29. This will be the last such affair for the duration and its hoped that this will prove to be the best one ever witnessed. Reservations must be made by January 27 so make yours now.
