

Girls All Set To Snag Their Men

By SARAH H. LEMON

Leap year again, girls, and here's your golden opportunity to propose!

This day of days which comes only once in four years has its own code of ethics, the major portion of same being, "Any thing goes on this day. You may say anything whether it is subtle or not if it will promote your welfare and your objective — that is, if your objective is marriage."

It has often been said that Chicago has a dearth of eligible men, but we don't know that we particularly agree. Let's give a rundown and list just a few who are presently within our city limits.

HANDSOME LAWYER

First of all, there's Lyeurgus Conner, a handsome and dignified lawyer who practices from an office at 180 W. Washington st.

From a family of Chicagoans which has long been prominent on the local scene, his mother was once prominent in politics and his sister, Mrs. Edna Hudson, is a brilliant teacher in the public schools.

Another eligible gentleman in the same vicinity is Poindexter Orr. Tall, personable, Mr. Orr is also a prominent lawyer. In addition to his avid interest in law, Orr is intensely interested in bowling, having played in state and interstate tournaments on occasion.

LAW STUDENTS

Now, let's not leave out law students, for we could list a couple of them too. Mercer Cook, who is a senior at the University of Chicago Law School is the handsome son of the distinguished scholar and professor of languages, Dr. Will Mercer Cook and Mrs. Cook of Howard university in Washington.

Mercer is a graduate of Amherst college and has traveled extensively in Europe.

Fred McLendon, son of Dr. and Mrs. F. Earl McLendon of Atlanta, is here as a student in the Northwestern School of Law. Handsome and tall, Fred is a well travelled young man who is destined to go places.

If you have an interest in men in our medical profession, there are Drs. Alex Whitfield, Georges Jean-Baptiste, Paul Bourelly and E. Milton Johnson, all of whom are outstanding in their fields and very nice people to know.

I don't know if this is a help gals, but consider this and other lists and good luck!!!!
