

Exotic Queen of Dance

Class, charm and personality, that's what they say about Kaloh. Just one glimpse will convince the most skeptical. Kaloh is the tantalizing and exotic dancer appearing in "Hot From Harlem" stage revue which also features Slim and Slam, musical team. The bronze model of loveliness will be seen with the company when it plays the Booker-T. Theatre here, beginning February 16, for four days.

"Hot from Harlem" Revue Coming to the Booker-T

An announcement of great interest and pleasure was forthcoming from the Litchman theatres this week, when it was revealed that the Booker-T Theatre in Norfolk will be the scene of a gala stage show for four days starting this coming Wednesday, February 15th. The show will first be seen in Tidewater on Sunday night, Feb. 12th, for one midnight show only at the Capitol Theatre in Portsmouth.

From Portsmouth the show will move over to the Jefferson in Newport News, for Monday and Tuesday with a midnight ramble on Monday night.

The stage show will feature none other than the great musical team of "Slim and Slam" in person. These versatile young men are the originators of such tunes as "Flat Foot Floogie," "Tutti Fruitti," "Jam Session," and "Eight, Nine and Ten." "Slim and Slam," play guitar and bass fiddle. The bass fiddle playing is the talk of the country, as their records are now being heard on every "piccolo."

"Slim and Slam" will have with them five big acts, a chorus of loveliness, and Connie McLean and his band. The show is titled "Hot From Harlem," and has Kaloh, exotic dancer, the teams of Pop and LeRoy, and Pep and Pepper, Edith King, and the Bronze Beauty Brigade.

The show will open with a Midnight ramble on Sunday night, the 12th, in Portsmouth, and thence to Newport News and Norfolk as stated above.

The screen feature in Norfolk will be "Mysterious Mr. Moto," starring Peter Lorre, and admission will be 25c for adults on matinees, 35c for adults on night shows, and 15c for children all day. The midnight show charge is 35c to all.
